WAR OFFICIALLY REPORTED.

FRENCH STATEMENT. PARIS, November 25, 2:30 p.m.:

In the Artois and in Lorraine there was fighting last night with hand grenades in several districts. Our artillery directed an effective fire against machine gun emplacements in the region of the Faize valley, in the Somme, and in the region of Roye, at the station at Beauvraignes and at Laucourt.

On the rest of the front there was the usual artillery fighting.
Last night's French official statement reads: reads:

Everywhere our batteries replied successfully and kept the advantage.

North of the mountain strong enemy forces penetrated our positions, but during the afternoon our forces counter ettacked and completely repulsed the enemy.

After fluctuating and severe hand-to-hand fighting several attacks against Monte San Michele itself were repulsed, with the heaviest of Italian losses. Attempted attacks against our positions on Monte Dei Schust were suppressed by our fire. Near Zagora the enemy threw heavy bombs which developed asphyxiating gases.

Barrington Branch, a young American pianist, made his initial public appearance in recital before a Washington audience yesterday afternoon in the audience yesterday afternoon in the small ballroom of the New Willard, which was well filled with an appreciative audience. Mr. Branch made his early musical studies under American masters, but for the past five years has been in Europe, and has coached with Leopold Godoswky, Mark Hambourg and Ossip Gabrilowitch.

He gave also "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor," by Bach (Tausig transcription), and "L'Isle Joyeuse," by Debussy (Bacchanale). "Clair de Lune," by Stcherbatcheff, was also on the program, but for some reason not stated was omitted by the artist. Over the Graves"), in the Sonata, in E
